

THE HAWORTH FAMILY

The Haworth family came originally from Yorkshire and then Lancashire in England. The first immigrant, George Haworth, came to Pennsylvania in 1699. There in Bucks County, he married Sarah Scarborough. Our line descends from their son James Frederick Haworth who married Sarah Wood, through their son Richard H. Haworth who married Ann Dillon, through their son William Haworth who married Sarah Brazelton. William and Sarah's daughter, Mary Ann (Polly) Haworth married William Canaday and hence the lines became linked.

The Haworth family was Quaker and followed the same migration pattern as our Canadays. They went from Pennsylvania to North Carolina and then Tennessee around 1800. From there they went to Indiana and then to Illinois. During this time period, there were Haworths marrying Canadays as well as Beals, Thornburghs, Beesons, Dillons and other cousins of ours.

I will begin this history in Yorkshire County of England with our earliest known ancestor Henry Haworth, son of Henry Haworth.

HENRY HAWORTH

Henry Haworth was from Yorkshire in the north of England. I know absolutely nothing of him, except the fact that he had three sons, Henry, William and James. Henry Haworth would have been born sometime around the 1620 time period, probably in Yorkshire. His sons were born in the early 1640s, so I am simply working back to a birth date. He may have moved to, or simply been in, Lancashire as one of his sons seems to have been born there.

That's all I have. The following are three sons, he may have had more sons and most probably had daughters as well.

Henry Haworth Junior

Henry, the second, was born in the early 1640s. I do not know his wife's name, but they had at least two children.

ELIZABETH HAWORTH married her cousin, James Haworth of Hapton Hall, son of Henry's brother William.

HENRY HAWORTH III of Bently Wood Green. He had four children: Elizabeth who married Robert Foulds of Hapton. They had one daughter, Alice Foulds. Elizabeth died and Robert Foulds married her sister. Mary also married Robert Foulds and had Ann Foulds who married William Jamison. George and John, both of whom died as children.

James Haworth

James Haworth is our line and is covered in the next section.

William Haworth

William had one son who married his brother's daughter. That is literally all I know of William.

JAMES HAWORTH married his cousin, Elizabeth Haworth. This family went to America with their cousin, George Haworth, son of James above.

JAMES HAWORTH

James Haworth would have been born about 1645 in the County of Lancashire. He was probably married sometime around 1665 to 1670. His wife was named Isabel, but we have no clues as to her maiden name.

The Haworths lived in Rockcliffe near Bacup in Rockdale Parish some twenty miles north of the city of Manchester in Lancashire.

James Haworth had two brothers that we know of, Henry and William. William's son, James Haworth came to America along with our ancestor, George Haworth.

James and Isabel Haworth had four daughters and two sons before he died in about 1684 while only in his late thirties. His widow, Isabel, later married John Ormerod, but had no more children. Isabel was alive into the early 1700s. She died in 1707 and is buried in the Friends Burial Ground in Marsden, Lancaster.

The children of James and Isabel Haworth were:

Mary Haworth

Mary was born in 1668 and married John Myers or Miers and immigrated to America in about 1697. They lived on the Maryland coast in a town called Harbills. John was a hatter by trade. Mary joined the Quaker Church, but John remained with the Church of England.

John Myers died in about 1718 and Mary moved to Lewistown, Pennsylvania. She may have moved before John died, but I do not know. Mary died in 1728 and was buried in land she had given the Church as a Friends Burial Ground.

They had six children. Two died as infants, ELIZABETH and GEORGE. The others were JOHN, JAMES, MARY and SARAH MYERS.

It was at Mary's house in Harbills that young George Haworth went upon arriving in America in 1699.

George Haworth

George is our line and his life is covered in the next section.

Sarah Haworth

Sarah married Isaac Collins of Hampton, Lancashire. This family remained in the area for several generations.

Susannah Haworth

Susannah was born about 1670 and married a man named Shaw and they had at least two sons. Jonathan and James Shaw, one of the heirs to the estate at Hapton Halls.

James Haworth

James was born about 1678 and, like his brother George became a Quaker. He, however, remained in England with his mother. He leased an estate called Hapton Hall in Patron Grove, Hapton. In 1709, he married Ellen Blakey of Marston Meeting. Ellen died the next year and in 1712, he married a cousin, Elizabeth, daughter of Henry Haworth.

James and Elizabeth had four children: JAMES, who died as an infant. ELIZABETH who married Richard Fort of Hard. GEORGE who married Martha Rawcliffe and had nine children: James, John, Elizabeth, Martha, Mary, George, Henry, Jonathan and Susannah. HENRY who married Elizabeth Tapper of Northwood and had three children: Elizabeth, James and George.

Isabella Haworth

It was Isabella, born about 1685, and her husband that went with her brother George to America in 1699. She died at sea in childbirth. Her child died as well. Then a few days after arriving in America, her husband died as well. There is a letter coming up that details these deaths.

GEORGE HAWORTH

George Haworth would have been born about 1680 in Lancashire, England. As a young man, he became a Quaker and accepted William Penn's invitation to come to America and be free of religious persecution. In 1699, George Haworth came to America with his sister and her husband. They were at sea some fourteen weeks and endured the hardships of such a long journey. His sister and brother in law, as well as many others died at sea.

A very good account of this voyage is contained in a letter that George wrote his mother a few weeks after arriving in America. This transcript of that letter was obtained in a booklet put out by the Haworth Family Association at a Reunion held in Plainfield, Indiana in September of 1899.

Philadelphia, 26, of 8 Mo., 1699

To my Dear Mother, Brother and Sisters: --

After my dear love to you all with my dear love to all my friends and neighbors, hoping that you are all in good health as I am at present, blessed be the Lord for the same; though I have been very weakly at sea in the latter end of our journey, but it pleased the Lord that I got on shore at a place 100 leagues short of Philadelphia, where I was informed that my Sister dwelt there at a place called "Hurbells", and so much in weakness I got to the place and quickly found her, and staid there one week and then set sail in a sloop for Philadelphia, for which I paid 5s. My Sister was in good health and she hath four children, two boys and two girls, and her husband being well also, and is in good health. He is a hatter to his trade. We were about 14 weeks at sea. After we left Liverpool a long and tedious journey we had, for we being thronged in the ship I believe hurt many, for we had many distempers amongst us as fevers, flux and jaundice and many died at sea about 56 and at shore there died about 20. Henry Mitchell died at sea about midway, his son John is dead also, and one Ellis Schofield and Robert Brewer are dead and he hath left his goods to be returned to his kinfolks at Liverpool.

My Brother-in-law is dead and the child died also about three days before my sister. She was indifferently well most of the way, but about 100 leagues of sight of land she bore a child and it died and then she died and left her household goods to my sister and one half of the clothes and the other half she left to me. As for my Sister here, she doth somewhat incline to come to meeting; but she liveth so far remote from any meeting that she seldom goeth, but as for her husband he doth not incline to go to Friends Meetings. If my Brother, or any of my neighbors do incline to come into this country, let them be careful that they do not come too many in the ship as we did, for being thronged and the smell of many, then many fainted away and died.

We wanted water and beer to drink, for having salt beef we were much a thirst and could not get enough to drink, for the seamen stowed the hold so full of goods that they had not enough room for water and beer, and then wanting such things as might have nourished us, we suffered hardships. But if any come let them buy for themselves over and besides the ship's allowance, spices, brandy and cheese, let the seamen pretend to what they will, or else victuals themselves and bargain for being carried over and goods and then bring for yourselves but a little beef and some bacon and what flour is very good, and cheese and butter and eggs and any other mild sort of food. And as for your goods you bring, let them be bedticks, very good, with all sorts of bedding.

Bring no hats except very good and hardwares; so be careful of being thronged in the ship or a summer's journey, lest you be hurt as we were. We had a very hard passage; we were brought to an allowance of water and beer and then for every four we had two cases of water and beer and then two. So no more, but very dear love to my Mother, Brother and Sisters, with the rest.

George Haworth wrote a second letter to his mother that was presented to the Haworth Gathering. This second letter was dated '13th of the 5th Month called May 1701.' This date in itself is strange as in the old style calendar used up until 1753, the 5th month was July. Anyway it was two years later. The following are excerpts from this letter.

I have had my health reasonably ever since I came into the country, but at first being a little weakly I was with James Haworth, and then I hired myself for a year and I had about 10 pounds wages in the year ... So if any of my relation have a mind to come to this country I think it a very good one, and that they may do well, but be sure to come free. But if you come servants, they must be sold for four or five years work hard, so be sure to come free and bring such things as will suit plantation work, as horse chains and plough gears, and all things suitable to work with, as plough irons and things for selling.

He went on to describe the land, the game, the crops and other things in the new land. He again told his mother that he first stayed with his sister and then went north,

... then came into the county of Bucks, where my cousin James Haworth lives, and dwelleth near to him, being about 250 miles from my sister.

James Haworth and his wife are well and hath one daughter....Direct your letters for me to be left at Phineas Pembertons, in the county of Bucks, and so remain, Your loving Brother George Haworth

At any rate, George Haworth moved to Bucks County and purchased a tract of land some four hundred fifty acres in size and commenced farming. He also took up weaving, but farming was his main livelihood. He would remain on this very land for the rest of his life.

On September 28, 1710, some ten years after arriving in America, George married a young Quaker girl, Sarah Scarborough. Sarah was the daughter of John and Mary Pierson Scarborough. She was born in Buckingham township of Bucks County on March 2, 1694. For more on this family, see the SCARBOROUGH FAMILY HISTORY, which follows. They raised seven children, their first-born died at birth, there in Bucks County. They lived near the town of Lahaska in Solebury Township.

George Haworth died on November 28, 1724, and was buried at the Buckingham Family Buring Ground (FBG), Buckingham township, Bucks County. Sarah lived on for many years. In about 1731, she remarried to Mathew Hall originally from Staffordshire in England. They had four children, David, Sarah, Maholn and Margery Hall. For more on the Hall children, see the following Scarborough Section. They remained in Bucks County. She died on February 4, 1748. Both George and Sarah are buried in Bucks County, in the Buckingham Friends Burial Ground.

The following is what I know about the six children of George and Sarah Haworth. George wrote a letter to his relatives in England dated 9-3-1712, presumably in old style, in which he mentions the death of his first born son. The other surviving children follow:

Stephanus Haworth

Stephanus was the eldest child. There was an earlier son who died at birth. Stephanus was born February 17, 1713. He, like most of his family, moved to Northern Virginia and joined the Hopewell Monthly Meeting there. He was received on certificate from the Buckingham, Pennsylvania MM along with his brother Absalom on October 4, 1738.

Here he married Rachel Beeson in 1740. Rachel was born in 1724 in Frederick County, Virginia and was a daughter of Richard Beeson and Charity Grubb. They settled on a 400 acre farm some four miles south of the present town of New Market, Virginia. They raised their nine children here in Frederick County.

In about 1763, The family moved to Rowan County, North Carolina and settled in the Valley of Rich Creek, in the area served by the New Garden Monthly Meeting. Here the children were married and here Stephanus died on March 19, 1765.

Rachel married again the following year, on September 1, 1766, to Anthony Chamness and they either moved to the area of Cane Creek or switched to that meeting as it was there that she died on March 19, 1775, with the record at the Cane Creek MM.

The following is what I know about the children of Stephanus and Rachel Haworth:

STEPHANUS II was born about 1741 in Frederick County, Virginia. He married Elizabeth Shepherd at the New Garden, North Carolina MM on January 15, 1768. Elizabeth was born about 1741 in Lancaster (now Adams) County, Pennsylvania. She was a daughter of Solomon Shephard and Jane Wilson. They both remained in Guilford County, North Carolina where Stephanus died on April 18, 1804 and Elizabeth on February 4, 1807.

MICAJAH HAWORTH was born January 28, 1743 n.s. in Hopewell, Frederick County, Virginia. He was married out of unity and disciplined on June 30, 1764. His wife was Mary McCurry and they were probably married in early 1764. Mary was born in Bladen County, North Carolina on 11-5-1747 o. s. and was a daughter of John McCurry a miller on Abbott's Creek. Micajah was a farmer and they settled on the south fork of Rich Creek, a branch of Abbott's Creek. This was near present day High Point, North Carolina. In 1791, they had 450 acres on the farm. Micajah died in Davidson County on June 29, 1822. He is buried at the Springfield FBG in Guilford County. Mary died there on September 6, 1834 and is also buried at Springfield. Their children were, John, Stephanus, Samuel, Micajah, Elijah, George, Josiah, Jeremiah, Rachel, Mary and Ruth.

RICHARD B. HAWORTH was born June 13, 1745 in Frederick County, Virginia.

PHEBE HAWORTH was born in Virginia about 1746. She married Joseph Hoggatt in Rowan County on January 6, 1763. Joseph was born about 1735 in Springfield, North Carolina, the son of Philip Hoggatt and Mary Glendenning. Joseph died in Guilford County on July 17, 1815. I do not know when Phebe died.

CHARITY HAWORTH was born 1-6-1749 o. s. She married John Chamness. This was recorded as a marriage out of unity in New Garden on December 26, 1767. John was born 1-

3-1749 in Orange County, North Carolina, a son of Anthony Chamness and Sarah Cole. They had five children and then John deserted Charity. She moved with others in her family to Indiana in 1811.

ARAH M. HAWORTH was born about 1750 in Frederick County. On October 31, 1769, she married John Wheeler, son of John and Mary Wheeler. Sarah died on March 26, 1789 in Alamance County, North Carolina, and was buried at the Cane Creek FBG. John then married Elizabeth Piggott on June 17, 1790. He died November 7, 1802.

WELMET HAWORTH was born about 1753 in Virginia. She married Joseph Kemp or Camp in Orange County on April 18, 1771. Joseph was a son of Richard and Susannah Kemp. They lived in the area of the Cane Creek MM.

GEORGE HAWORTH was born in Virginia about 1757. He married Margaret Thornburgh in Rowan County at the New Garden MM on January 8, 1771. Margaret was born June 25, 1759 in North Carolina. She was a daughter of Henry Thornburgh and Rachel Moon. She died July 20, 1812. George married second to Deborah Day on October 5, 1814 at the Springfield MM. They lived very near to that meeting house. George died March 12, 1842 at age eighty-five. He is buried at the Springfield FBG.

RACHEL HAWORTH was born about 1757. She married John Hunt on August 9, 1780 at the Deep River MM in Guilford County, North Carolina. John Hunt was born on October 30, 1760 in Rowan County. He was a son of William Hunt and Sarah Mills. They moved to Ohio in 1805 and then to Indiana in 1817. They lived in Hamilton County, Indiana. She died there in 1842.

Absalom Haworth

Absalom was born about 1716, in Solebury Township, Bucks County, Pennsylvania. He moved to Frederick County, Virginia in the Fall of 1738. Here he married Elizabeth Payne in 1738.

Elizabeth was born on December 5, 1724. She was a daughter of Josiah Payne and Martha Shepherd.

He settled near his brother Stephanus and died there in Virginia in April or May of 1752. His will was dated April 17, 1752 and it was proved June 2, 1752. Some of his children moved to North Carolina and then over into Tennessee as did many other Quaker families.

I have some information on their children:

NATHANIEL HAWORTH was born in 1740. He married Hannah Barrett in 1766. They lived in Virginia and in 1790 moved to Greene County, Tennessee. From there they moved on up into Ohio.

ABSALOM HAWORTH JR. was born in 1743. He married but I do not have her name. She must have died shortly afterwards. In about 1780, he moved to a farm in Afton, North Carolina (now part of Tennessee). In 1782, he was disciplined for marrying out of unity to Mary West in Greene County, Tennessee. Mary was born October 18, 1764 in Loudon

County, Virginia, a daughter of Thomas West and Rachel Oliphant. He died December 26, 1826 near Afton (now Greenville, Tennessee) and is buried at the FBG near Rheatown, Greene County. Mary died on September 5, 1846.

MARY HAWORTH was born about 1745. She married William White. They moved to Hawkins County, Tennessee and seemed to have remained there.

HANNAH HAWORTH was born about 1848. She married Benjamin Morland, and they moved to Hawkins County, Tennessee where she died.

Rachel Haworth

I have no information on her except she was born about 1715.

John Haworth

John Haworth was born about 1717 in Bucks County, Pennsylvania. After his father died, he went to live with his uncle, Robert Scarborough, in Frederick County, Virginia. Here he probably married Mary Garner in July of 1749. It was reported on 8-3-1749 at the Buckingham MM in Bucks County. Mary was the daughter of Hans Garner, a native of Germany.

In 1750, he moved back to Bucks County. By 1776 they were living in Haverford Township of Chester County.

John died November 19, 1776. He was buried November 21, 1776 at the Springfield FBG in what is now Delaware County, Pennsylvania.

They had ten children, one being Rachel Haworth who married Aaron Toole and they were ancestors of President Herbert Hoover.

James Frederick Haworth

James was born October 10, 1719. He moved to Frederick County, Virginia in 1739 and married Sarah Wood on March 11, 1743. Sarah was a daughter of Richard Wood and Susannah Dillon.

They had six children and moved to North Carolina and then to Tennessee. This is our line and his life is covered in the next section.

Mary Haworth

Mary was born on February 23, 1721. She married John Michener on September 30, 1746 at the Buckingham MM in Bucks County.

John was a son of William and Mary Custer Michener. He was born in Bucks County, Pennsylvania on March 2, 1721.

On November 27, 1763, he bought 50 acres near Germantown, Bristol Township, Pennsylvania. They had nine children. For complete details on this family see the book, The Mitcheners in America, by Anna Shaddinger.

Mary died in Pennsylvania February 3, 1771. Her husband, John, died there on March 28, 1798. He is buried on his farm.

George Haworth II

George was born in 1724. He remained in Pennsylvania. In October or November of 1748, he married Mary or Martha Brown. He died shortly thereafter and there were three children:

GEORGE HAWORTH who married Rachel Haworth.

DAVID HAWORTH

MAHLON HAWORTH

JAMES FREDERICK HAWORTH

James Haworth was born in Solebury Township, Bucks County, Pennsylvania on October 10, 1719. He grew up in Pennsylvania and about 1740, moved to Frederick County in Northern Virginia with his brothers. This area, near Winchester was on Smith Creek near Apple Pie Ridge.

In Virginia, he married Sarah Wood on March 11, 1743, and it is recorded in the minutes of the Smith River Meeting on November 3, 1743. Sarah is a daughter of James Wood and Susannah Dillon Wood. There is more on the WOOD FAMILY and DILLON FAMILY following in this addendum. Sarah was born in 1720 in Frederick County, Virginia.

They had six children, all born in Frederick County, Virginia. James Haworth was killed on October 10, 1757 while being driven off his farm by Indians.

It seems that Sarah took her family, along with her in-laws, to North Carolina in 1757 where she lived for a while.

Sarah married again, this time to Peter Ruble in 1759 and they had one son and three more daughters. They moved to Tennessee where Sarah died on June 20, 1769.

The following is what I know about the children of James Frederick and Sarah Wood Haworth:

Richard H. Haworth

Richard Haworth, the eldest child, was born 6-31-1744 old style or September 10, 1744 new style in Frederick County, Virginia. He married Ann Dillon there in 1765. This is our ancestor and his life is covered in the next full section.

Jemima Haworth

Jemima was the next child. She would have been born about 1747. She is listed in September of 1757 as being ten years of age. She married John Wright on October 10, 1768. The marriage was recorded in South Carolina, but I believe it took place in North Carolina. Several of the Haworths were associated with the Bush River MM in Berkeley County, South Carolina, but do not seem to have actually moved there.

John Wright was born February 24, 1748 in Prince George's County, Maryland. He was a son of John Wright and Rachel Wells.

They moved from North Carolina to Tennessee where John died in early 1797. Jemima and the family moved to Ohio in 1803. She died at age eighty on August 14, 1828 in Leesburg, Highland County, Ohio and is buried at the Fairfield FBG there.

The Wrights had twelve children: JESSE, JAMES, JOSEPH, JOHN (who died in infancy), another JOHN, JUDAH, JONAH, JANE, JOSHUA, JEMIMA, JOAB and JOEL.

What with their parents also having the same first initial, swapping initialed items was fairly easy. In fact, Roger Boone told me that their dog was named 'Jowler' as well.

George H. Haworth

George was the third child of James Haworth. He was born in 1749 near Apple Pie Ridge in Frederick County, Virginia.

He was married twice. First to Susannah Dillon on November 1, 1773 at the Hopewell MM in Frederick County, Virginia. Susannah was born November 24, 1755 near Winchester in Frederick County. She was a daughter of William Dillon and Sarah Reece and a sister of Ann who married our ancestor, Richard H. Haworth.

George was drafted into the Continental Army at the outbreak of the Revolution. Like all Quakers, fighting was against their religion. George fled to western North Carolina to what is now Greene County, Tennessee.

There is a story that he went west to Kentucky with Daniel Boone. The following is from a History of Clinton County Ohio where George moved in 1803:

“George's father, James Haworth, was a native of Pennsylvania, but removed to Frederick County, Va. The subject of our sketch was born in Bucks County, Penn. but while still a boy, removed with his parents to the neighborhood of Winchester, Va.. Where they lived upon the mountain range, called Apple Pitt Ridge. Here he grew up to manhood and was married to Susannah Dillon, but the spirit of emigration having a strong hold upon him, he removed with his young wife to North Carolina, settling on the Yadkin River, near the home of Daniel Boone. After Boone had returned from his wanderings in Kentucky, he gave such a glowing description of the lands of that country that Mr. Haworth was induced to join his party. On the 25th of September, 1771, they left their homes and made the first attempt ever made to settle Kentucky.

The families of George Haworth and his brother James made two of the six families that accompanied Boone on that occasion. The party proceeded until they were descending the Alleghanies, near Cumberland Mountain, when they were attacked with great fury by a scouting party of Indians and several of their number slain, among whom was Boone's eldest son. The party, however, soon rallied from the confusion into which they were thrown, and the attack was repelled; but the party was so disheartened that they retreated to Clinch River, forty miles in their rear. The Haworth brothers now returned to North Carolina, and remained there about twelve years, when they again attempted to enter Kentucky, but, finding the Indians still hostile, turned their course to Tennessee, and, in what is now Green County in that State, George selected the place for his now home. He then returned to North Carolina, and, taking his two little sons, Mahlon and John, with him, went back to Tennessee, built a cabin and made other preparations for the reception of the other members of his family. When their work was done, the father returned to North Carolina for his wife, and other children, leaving; the two little boys, aged ten and twelve years, alone in the new home, with provisions enough, as he supposed, to last them during his absence; which he expected would be of two or three weeks' duration. But high waters and other impediments to travel on packhorses detained them for six weeks. During the time, their provisions gave out, and the little boys were obliged to subsist on parched corn, roots and berries, such as they could gather in the woods. Added to this trouble was the fear of an attack by the Indians, and when at last their parents arrived, the boys ran to meet them with outstretched arms, the mother sprang from her horse, clasped them in her arms and they all wept together for joy. Mr. Haworth's family continued to reside near Greenville, Tenn., until the year 1803, he being engaged as a merchant and cattle dealer, when they again left their home for a new one in the unopened forest. This time they came to Ohio, and, in the fall of 1803, made a settlement on Todd's Fork, on the farm known to the early residents of the county as the Stacey Bivan farm, not far from Centre Meeting-House. Mr. Haworth had bought 1,750 acres of land in William Duval's Survey, No. 523."

After the Revolution in 1784, he moved with his family to a 300 acre farm on the banks of the Nolachuckee, a tributary of the Holston River. This was in Afton, North Carolina but is Now Greenville, Tennessee.

In 1803, he and the family moved to the Stacy Bivan Farm on Todds Creek, Union Township, Clinton County, Ohio. He was the second settler in Union Township. He then bought 1,750 acres near the Center Meeting House in Clinton County. Susannah died in Ohio in June of 1804. She was the first adult buried in the new Center FBG. On October 7, 1807, George married again, this time to Joanna (DeMoss) Van Horne. Joanna was born on October 1, 1754 and was the widow of Benjamin Van Horne.

George was a farmer, a merchant and a Quaker Minister. In 1825, they moved to Indiana.

George died on October 4, 1837 at age eighty-six at his farm on Quaker Point, Vermilion County, Indiana and is buried there in the Haworth Cemetery. Joanna died there on December 4, 1854 and is also buried in Haworth Cemetery.

George and Susannah had the following children that lived to maturity, there were two more that died as infants:

MAHOLN HAWORTH was born October 23, 1775 in Frederick County, Virginia. Maholn married Phebe Frazier on November 16, 1794 in Greene County, Tennessee. Phebe was born in Pennsylvania on July 27, 1775, a daughter of Ezekiel Frazier and Rebecca Thomas. They lived near Greenville, Tennessee. In about 1800, he went north to explore lands in Ohio lands of the Northwest Territories which were just opening up for settlement. He returned and took his family north into Ohio and settled on Dover Road some two miles north of the present town of Wilmington, Clinton County, Ohio. He lived on the farm of William Walker on Todds Fork. Maholn died there on March 23, 1850 and Phebe died there May 20, 1853. Both are buried at the Dover FBG in Clinton County, Ohio.

JOHN B. HAWORTH was born August 6, 1778 in Greene County, North Carolina (now Tennessee). He was married October 11, 1800 at the New Hope MM in Greene County to Elizabeth Ballard. Elizabeth was born June 28, 1778 in Guilford County, the daughter of Moorman and Minerva Ballard. John was a farmer and an early day physician. In 1804, he with others moved to Clinton County, Ohio and then in 1821 moved again into Vermilion County, Indiana. In 1840 the family moved to the Iowa Territory and settled on the Black Hawk Purchase. John died in Ackworth, Keokuk County (now Warren County), Iowa on December 10, 1849. Elizabeth died there as well, but I do not have a date.

JAMES P. HAWORTH was born December 16, 1781 in Greene County. In 1800 he married his first cousin, Rachel Wright in Greene County, Tennessee. She was born in North Carolina January 1, 1782 and was a daughter of James Wright and Sarah Haworth. James Haworth was a farmer and a surveyor. In 1800, he explored the Ohio territories with his brother Maholn. In about 1805 he moved to Ohio with his family. He lived near the Dover MH in Wilmington, Ohio. In 1822, he moved his family to the southeast end of Vermilion County, Illinois. There he bought 640 acres and laid off the town of Georgetown, Vermilion County, Illinois and named it after his crippled son. James died in Vermilion County on December 28, 1858. His widow, Rachel, moved to Iowa with some of the children shortly afterwards.

GEORGE I. HAWORTH was born in Afton, Greene County, North Carolina (now Greenville, Tennessee) on August 20, 1783. There he married his second cousin, Rachel Haworth, on February 4, 1806. Rachel was born in Afton, North Carolina on July 12, 1783. She was a daughter of Absolom Haworth and Mary West. The family moved to Ohio in 1803 and to Illinois in 1822. He settled in Vermilion County, Illinois and, with Henry Canaday were the first settlers in the area of Danville, Illinois. George died February 5, 1830 and Rachel died in 1853. Both are buried in Vermilion County, Illinois.

RICHARD H. HAWORTH

Richard Haworth was born on September 10, 1744 in Frederick County, Virginia. His birth date is recorded in the old style as the 31st day 6th month 1744.

Richard grew up in the rolling hills of northern Virginia and there married Ann Dillon on May 10, 1765. They were married at Dillon's Run. Ann was a daughter of William Dillon and Mary Reece Dillon. She was born on May 1, 1746 (n.s.) in Frederick County, Virginia. More on this family follows in the DILLON FAMILY HISTORY upcoming shortly.

Richard, along with many other relatives moved to Rowan County in North Carolina and were received by the Friends Meeting at New Garden on November 30, 1771. The family remained here for some 20 years.

In 1791, he moved west to Tennessee and settled near New Market in Jefferson County. They were granted certificates by New Garden to go to the Westfield Monthly Meeting on October 29, 1791.

In the 1790s, Tennessee was true wilderness. The Quakers always acknowledged that the Indians were the true owners of the land and not the King in England. Whenever the Friends took up new lands, they always bought the lands from the Indians and treated them fairly. Early Quaker settlers were generally treated well by the Indians, but others who even came later were set upon by the Indians for many years in these wild lands. The Haworths and others lived quite peacefully with the Indians.

The Quakers bought a large tract of land on the south side of the Holston River. They were told not to go onto the north side as that was still Indian lands. Those that did were disowned by the church. Richard and the others settled on the south bank.

Richard and Ann Dillon remained in this area for the rest of their lives. Richard Haworth died in 1813 or 1814. His will was dated February 21, 1813 and proved on March 16, 1814. Ann died in 1844. Both are buried near New Market, Tennessee.

In 1813, they moved to Union County, Indiana Territory and in 1818 they were living in Winchester, Randolph County, Indiana. They moved to Vermilion County, Illinois in 1827 and then in 1841 moved back to Indiana near New London in Howard County.
