DANIEL BENNETT PUTMAN

Illinois to Yamhill County Oregon

Daniel Bennett Putman was a son of Reding Putman and Stacey Combs. He was born in Warren County Kentucky on April 15, 1810. He was named for his two grandfathers, Daniel Putman and Bennett Combs.

He married Isabelle Findley on January 28, 1830 in Fulton County Illinois. Isabelle was born on January 5, 1814 and was the daughter of David Findley and Jeanette Ritchey Findley.

Daniel Bennett Putman left Fulton County during the 1830s and lived for a while in Henderson County Illinois. In May of 1846 the family decided to go west. They joined the Buell Wagon Train that left Oskaloosa, Iowa in May of 1846 and went as far as St. Joseph, Missouri where they spent the winter. The wagon train left St. Joseph on May 14, 1847 and headed to Oregon. The wagon train stopped at the Whitman Mission and left only days before Indians overran the settlement. The group arrived in Vancouver, Washington on November 15, 1847. They then went down the Columbia River to Oregon.

This branch of the Putman Family again pioneered new territories and are prominent today in Oregon.

Daniel Bennett and Isabelle Putman had eight children, all born in Illinois.

Isabelle died shortly after arriving in Oregon on October 30, 1847. Daniel Bennett Putman remarried a widow, Rebecca (Keeney) Landingham, on November 27, 1851 in Lane County Oregon and they had seven more children. Rebecca was a daughter of John Keeney and Mary Buckhalter and the widow of William Landingham.

In the 1860 census there were 4 Landingham kids listed as Putmans. They were John 19 MO, Thomas 15 IN, Mary 12 MO and George 11 MO. I don't find them listed under either name in 1850 or 1870.

Daniel was a millwright and built and operated the first mills in Oregon. In about 1856, he bought a farm near Amity, Oregon. Here he farmed and lived the rest of his life.

Daniel Bennett Putman died in Amity, Yamhill County Oregon on March 3, 1887. Rebecca died there on September 23, 1895.

The eight children with Isabelle were:
